ScienceVT: on Target to help Deaf Children

As part of the St. Edmund's day celebrations on Friday 19th November 2004, the Science Vertical Tutor Group (www.ScienceVT.co.uk) will be holding a sponsored Target competition to raise money to support deaf and hard-of-hearing children.

In the Target competition, the members of ScienceVT will be challenged to design a paper aeroplane that can accurately hit a target from a distance of 10 metres. Points will be awarded based on the accuracy of each throw. We ask you to sponsor the pupils to take part in this event (as sponsoring by the point could turn out to be very expensive!).

All funds raised will go towards our chosen charity which supports deaf and hard-of-hearing children. Please see Mr. Chittenden at St. Edmund's Catholic School for more information.

Please give generously to support this worthy cause!
